

'And now we have these three: faith and hope and love, but the greatest of these is love.'

1 Corinthians 13:13

Attendance

We would like to thank all of the parents who ensure their children come to school every day on time to access their learning! It really does make a huge difference to their learning and socialising!! Thank you for working together with the school!

Should you have any queries regarding attendance please don't hesitate to contact the school office.

After school clubs

We have various after school clubs you can sign up for on Arbour. We have worked out the payment bugs on Arbour. We encourage all of our children to sign up!

Tuesdays- Forest Club and Discovery Club

Thursdays- Art Club

Forest club is new to us this year! In these sessions, children will be building shelters, using basic tools, playing group games, make fairy villages, campfire cooking, music and singing and practice story telling.

We will be releasing more clubs as the weeks go on! Stay tuned!!

Breakfast club

You can sign up for our breakfast club on Arbour! We have daily breakfast club that runs from 8am. Bookings must be made via the Arbor app and 24 hours in advance. This is in order to ensure we have enough staff available to run the club.

There will be a small charge of £2.00 per day, which includes care from 8am and a breakfast. Entry to the club will be via the main gates on Thurstaston Road.

School Uniform

Can we please remind parents that our uniform consists of:
A Royal blue jumper or cardigan.
Grey trousers, skirts or dress.
Blue summer dresses for warmer months
Plain black shoes

Healthy Lunch

If your child brings a packed lunch to school please remember to make it healthy for them, please follow the link blow to help you get some good ideas.

Learning we've been buzzing about this week!

Nursery News

Nursery have had a lovely week talking about themselves and painting a self-portrait.

Reception News

Reception have been busy practicing making shapes ready to support us with writing letters. Look at our swirls, spikes, mountains and circles.

Year 1 News

This week in Year 1, we spent some time working in teams to build a bridge over our river, for people to cross. We had lots of fun working together and using different materials to create our bridges, and discussed why some materials may have worked better than others.

Year 2 News

This week Year 2 have been learning about all of the continents in the world

Year 3 News

Year 3 have been getting creative with their representation of the creation story from the Bible and are very curious about what will happen with the main character in our class book, 'The Iron Man.'

Year 4 News

Year 4 having fun testing paper cup phones they made in their science lesson on sound!

Year 5 News

This week in year 5 we've been looking at different types of adverbs (time, place, frequency, manner, and degree, conjunctive) and considering when and where we can apply them in our sentences.

What Parents & Carers Need to Know about LIVE STREAMING

Live streaming involves broadcasting and watching videos online in real time, often on social media or via platforms like YouTube and Twitch. Viewers can interact through comments, chat and reactions during the broadcast, such instant engagement makes this an exciting way to share experiences, learn from others and build digital communities. Despite the many positives, live streaming also creates a potential platform for unwise content and poses some risks to children. It's essential to keep privacy and safety in mind and comply with each site or app's age restrictions.

WHAT ARE THE RISKS?

LACK OF AGE VERIFICATION

Despite live age restrictions, some platforms don't require proof of age at sign-up – meaning that anyone can register for an account (and potentially pretend to be older or younger than they actually are). In many cases, this means that adults register accounts who then live broadcast content that is inappropriate for children.

DISCLOSING PERSONAL INFO

A characteristic of live streaming is the ability for viewers to see instantly shared content without the correct privacy settings enabled. A child could be inadvertently revealing personal information or other details that they shouldn't share. It's worth regularly checking the privacy settings (and what your child has shared) on any apps your child has signed up to.

ANYTHING COULD HAPPEN

As the video streamers are live, children might encounter (or interact with) inappropriate content. While there are reporting tools to prevent this and monitor these services, also providing report buttons where content can be flagged for review. It may not be ideal with instantly live-streaming, but your child could be further advised to monitor content during a live stream.

UNAUTHORISED RECORDINGS

Each live streaming platform stores copyrighted content for different periods (Twitch stores broadcasts for 14 days, for example, while Facebook and YouTube remove them after 90 days from the platform's servers). Watching a video, though, doesn't mean it's gone. Streamers have been known to record, stream or have been secretly recorded (or comments taken) by some viewers and redistributed on other sites.

ROGUE CONTENT CREATORS

Children and other users often create live content, which could be used to create something of a 'ring of silence' about inappropriate content. Some apps have a 'report' button to flag content that isn't suitable for them. However, if it's reported to the platform, it's not guaranteed to be removed or investigated. It's important to be aware of rogue content creators who may be using their platform to promote inappropriate content.

DANGER OF GROOMING

There are reports of children being groomed by adults who use live streaming to 'perform' 'lifestyle' or 'lifestyle' content. Some live streamers have been known to use their platform to groom children who sign up to their services (including grooming to create a false identity). It's vital, therefore, to be aware of the risks of grooming and to be aware of the risks of grooming and to be aware of the risks of grooming.

Advice for Parents & Carers

PUT PRIVACY FIRST

Through the streaming app's settings, switch your child's account to 'private' so only their friends and followers can see their broadcasts. They could also turn off the live chat, disabling your child from only seeing what you allow them to see. If you're not sure, ask them to show you how to do it. If you're not sure, ask them to show you how to do it.

MANAGE MULTISTREAMING

Some apps and chat let users stream their content through multiple social media platforms at once. It's essential to be aware of this, for example, if the content is shared on YouTube, Twitch, and Facebook. If the content is shared on multiple platforms, it's essential to be aware of this, for example, if the content is shared on YouTube, Twitch, and Facebook.

GET INVOLVED YOURSELF

Research suggests a significant number of streamers share a chat in their own, often in a support role. If you're not sure, ask them to show you how to do it. If you're not sure, ask them to show you how to do it.

TALK ABOUT LIVE STREAMING

Try to start with positives before discussing potential risks. You could ask which live streaming apps your child likes and how they use them. Do they just watch streams or create their own? Explain why it's essential to report personal information while streaming (even to friends). If you feel your child is too young for live streaming, explain your reasoning to them and perhaps agree to review this decision in the future.

CONSIDER THEIR ONLINE REPUTATION

As the streamers are live, it often causes the mismanagement among young people that whatever happens in their video simply vanishes. While the stream ends, however, videos can stay online indefinitely or be recorded by other users. It's important that your child understands what they do and say in live streams could potentially damage their online reputation and, quite possibly, be seen by prospective future employers, colleges or universities.
